ANDERSON DISPOSES OF 'SQUATTER LAND'

Nineteen Years' Litigation Over Valuable Calumet Sand Dunes Ended.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25.—Judge A. B. Anderson in federal court here Saturday awarded 170 acres of "squatter land" in the Calumet sand dunes to Charles H. Stephens of Chicago and John S. Pines of Brookline, Mass., who held deeds to the property.

The decision ends 19 years of litigation in which Drucilla Carr, of Miller, Ind., Henry W. Warren, of Indianapolis, Everett C. Ballard, Albert C. Garver and Bertha Manlove claimed the property by right of adverse possession of more than 20 years.

The litigation arose following the rapid development of the steel city during which the value of the land sprang from $27 an acre in 1894 to $1,500 in 1922.

Three times the case was fought out in lower courts and was appealed to the appellate court which sent it back to the lower courts again.

Defense attorneys contended the deeds to the property were invalidated when the holders refused to assert their ownership and Drucilla Carr held the land for more than 20 years and thereby obtained ownership through the doctrine of adverse possession.

HARDING FORMALLY OPENS EXHIBITION

Pressing of Button in White House Starts Flower Show on Its Way.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 25.—By pushing a button in the white house, which rang a bell in the Manufacturers building at the state fair grounds here, Pres. Harding tonight formally opened the 15th national flower show given under the auspices of the Society of American Florists and Ornamental Horticulturists.

The exposition, which it is estimated will cost $1,500,000, will continue all next week, and arrangements have been made to handle more than 100,000 visitors. Cut roses alone on display during the week will cost approximately $25,000. It is said, and one rose garden of a New England florist has been reproduced in miniature at an expense of more than $2,000.

The Mrs. Warren G. Harding, a new rose named in honor of the wife of Pres. Harding at the New York flower show a short time ago, will be on exhibition at the show part of next week.

See Revenge as Motive For Assault on Editor

MUNCIE, Ind., March 25.—Working on the theory that revenge and not robbery was intended, the police today are scouring the city in an effort to learn the identity of three masked men who late last night attacked and assaulted George Dale, editor of the Muncie Post-Democrat, a local weekly paper, and his son, George Dale, Jr., 18, as the two were returning home. The three men leaped from an automobile as it passed the two and with leveled revolver the leader of the trio ordered Dale to throw up his hands. Instead, the editor grappled with the masked men and wrestling the gun from him, held it close to the assailant's body and fired twice. The trio then escaped in an automobile.

SHIVELY HITS TREATY AS 'POLITICAL PLANS'

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25.—Denouncing the four-power pact as a political concoction entered into to save the face of the republican party, Bernard B. Shively of Marion, candidate for the democratic nomination for United States senator, asserted last night that the republican politicians can eat their words and like them better than any group of men he ever saw. He spoke before the Seventh District Women's Democratic club here.

"Had I been a member of the senate, I probably would have approved it," he said, "but I should have done so with a lowered head. For if the four-power pact is good for four nations, it is good for all, and it is nothing more or less than an admission that Woodrow Wilson, founder of the League of Nations, was right."

"The leaders of the republican party can eat their words and like it better than any group of persons I ever saw," he added.

To Reorganize Goshen Chamber of Commerce

GOSHEN, Ind., March 25.—Reorganization of the Goshen chamber of commerce is to be brought about by agents of the American City Bureau of Chicago, who are under contract to take the field March 20. Two and one-half years ago the Goshen chamber was organized on a three-year basis. Recently all directors and all officers resigned, following a series of disagreements.

Harry V. D. King, former secretary, is now district manager for the Elkhart Commercial Finance Corp.

Under the terms of the contract with the American City Bureau, that organization is to be paid 17 1/2 percent of all funds actually collected.

During its life of less than 15 years, the Goshen chamber spent about $15,000. This sum includes expenses of the Engman-Matthews Range Co. in moving from South Bend to Goshen.

ADOPTED DAUGHTER WINS $3,000 ESTATE

WARSAW, Ind., March 25.—A misplaced record in the office of the county clerk was found today that entitles the 16-year-old adopted daughter of Amos Osborne to his estate of $3,000.

Osborne, who died last week, willed his property to the girl, but relatives of the deceased claimed that the girl never had been legally adopted and declared their intention of contesting his will. A record of the circuit court found today discloses the fact that Leona Lightcap was adopted by Osborne on April 11, 1907.

GOVERNOR HAS LOG CABIN FOR SANCTUM

Hut, in Basement of Home, Like Primitive One Now Seen Only in Pictures.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 25.—A log cabin, the timbers of which, large and small, were brought from Wisconsin, and the Navajo rugs that brighten the floor and tables they cover, picked up as souvenirs on a trip through Old and New Mexico, is located in one of Lincoln's fashionable neighborhoods.

The cabin is in the basement of the home of Gov. S. R. McKelvie. It is the governor's private sanctum, the privilege of entering which is favor granted only to his most intimate friends.

The cabin resembles the interior of the huts that are seen only in pictures come from many parts of the country. The massive stone fireplace was built of stones gathered from all states in the union through which Mrs. McKelvie and her mother have traveled. Nebraska's first lady built the fireplace herself, after the foundation tiles had been placed, mixing her own mortar and lifting the stones into position.

Among the Indian collection is the riding saddle of Chief Sitting Bull, who was killed by the Americans in 1888, and beaded squaw dresses and other finery given the McKelvies by the Indians from the Pine Ridge reservation.

The work of Mrs. McKelvie's brush is found on the walls in pictures of mountain, wood and lake, framed in the birch logs.

BURBANK OPPOSES EARLY SCHOOLING

Believes Children in Country Districts Should Start at 10 Years of Age.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., March 25.—Boys and girls of small towns should not be allowed to see the inside of schoolhouses until they are ten years old, Luther Burbank, noted plant wizard, declared in a message responding to greetings from neighbors on his seventy-third birthday here recently.

"I speak of the boy and girl who has the privilege of being reared in the only place that is truly fit to bring up a boy or plant—the country or the small town—the nearer to nature the better," he said. "In the case of children compelled to live in the city, the temptations are too great, the life so artificial, the atmosphere so like that of a hot-house, that such a child should be placed in school earlier as a matter of safeguard."

Mr. Burbank said his life work with plants has convinced him that the same treatment and care necessary to the highest development of plant life is essential to the highest development of human life.

"All animal life is sensitive to environment, but of all living things the child is the most sensitive," he declared. "Surroundings act upon us as the outside world act upon the plate of the camera. Every possible influence will leave its impress upon the child, in many cases even overcoming heredity. A child literally absorbs environment. The proper influence applied during the impressionable period will cause an effect that will be pronounced, immediate and permanent."

"Pick out any trait which you may desire in a normal child, honesty, fairness, purity, loveableness, industry, thrift, what not; by surrounding a child with sunshine from your heart and the open sky giving it free communication with nature, well balanced and nutritious food, and you may fully attain the desired object."

Lee Meadows, the bespectacled pitcher of the Phillies, has developed a fadeaway delivery very much similar to the one Mathewson used.

Howard Ehmke, another Detroit pitcher, is satisfied with his salary, but says he desires to be sent elsewhere.
